Finding Self, Finding Truth

Living is a process. There are ups and downs in any life. At times we can make decisions based on superficial or the wrong criteria. We blame ourselves for problems that follow. We just have to keep moving ahead knowing that we made what we thought was the right decision based on what we believed to be true at the time. We need to forgive ourselves and gain more self knowledge to help us make better decisions in the future.

Reverend Jan will explore what it means to find self and find truth.

The Mixture That is Life

The Mixture That Is Life is made up of the good, the bad, the ugly, and the beautiful. Zen and other traditions teach us to greet all of these things with equanimity and perhaps joy. Julia Schult will lead this service.

Welcoming the Stranger

An anonymous writer wrote, "May we know once again that we are not isolated beings but connected, in mystery, and miracle, to the universe, and to each other." (cont. page 2)

Does this statement apply only to people we already know and who are part of our community or do we open our arms and hearts to the stranger as well.

Rev. Jan will reflect on what it means to welcome people into the community as the debate about immigration continues.
